Community Connections: Wednesday Evenings in February

On February 15th, Kate Ayers with ReEstablish Richmond will join us to share more about their work with resettling refugees in the Richmond area. Reestablish Richmond strives to provide culturally competent services to refugees who have been resettled in Richmond. For this reason, every program is designed and presented to clients with specific strategies to meet their diverse needs. From introducing community gardening to teaching transportation independence, from tutoring in English to hosting community-building ladies lunches, from leading job readiness workshops to connecting clients with local businesses interested in hiring refugees in positions with upward mobility, they work to support refugees and help break down the barriers along their path to self-sufficiency.

ReEstablish Richmond connects refugees to life-building tools and resources, helping their transition to be a positive and empowering experience. They work in collaboration with resettlement agencies, government services, faith communities and volunteers. They are committed to creating greater opportunities for refugees in Richmond by enabling access to services that benefit their future.

On February 22 we will have a conversation about what we've heard over the last few Wednesdays and how we might consider engaging our community more deeply in the days ahead.

Oregon Hill Center Homeless Breakfast March 9

On March 9, Grace Baptist Church will be partnering with Oregon Hill Baptist Center to provide and serve breakfast to 40-60 people as part of the Center's homeless ministry. Grace had this opportunity last October and it was a most rewarding experience. There is a signup sheet on the table outside the office to volunteer to provide food for the breakfast and/or serve the meal. In addition to the breakfast, Grace will be providing snack bags for the guests to take with them as they leave the Center. Please consider making a contribution by check or online (designate "Snack Bags") to help cover the cost of items for the bags. Your contributions of food, time and monetary gifts will be appreciated!

Last Wednesday we made cards of welcome for the refugee clients of ReEstablish Richmond.

learn more about it!

Dear ReEstablish Richmond supporters: Thank you so much for your incredible support during this challenging season. ReR believes that the stories of our refugee clients - stories of resilience and hope - transform us to love and welcome refugees. We believe in the promise of a better global society through kindness and compassion.

Through the month of February 2017, we invite our supporters to write welcome cards to our refugee neighbors. We suggest that your cards include messages of encouragement, support, acceptance, belonging, and hope. We welcome participation from volunteers of all ages: both written letters and children's drawings of beautiful images will be collected and distributed to our refugee neighbors.

Please place your cards/messages in a blank, stamped envelope, and mail them all together in a second, outside envelope addressed to:

Liberation Veterans' Services

Once again, Grace folks came through – thanks to Marilyn & Tracy, Joe & Jenny, Madonna & Cindy, Kathy Berry, Linda Savelle, Ellen Burhans & Barbara Hughes for their contributions of food and to Sharon & Wayne and Sandy Morrison for monetary contributions that paid for “Pioneer Woman” soup and supplies.

Thanks to our trusty and faithful servers/hosts – Barbara Sadtler, Ally Hughes, Courtney Allen, and Carole & Jimmie Gaunce. And for those of you who offered to serve but were not needed for this meal – catch you next time!

Our next meal is May 29th – Memorial Day; Archie & Elaine will not be available so we will need some “take-charge” folks for that evening.

Sewing Help Needed!

Can you sew? Do you have access to a sewing machine?

I'm looking for people to help make fabric market and crayon rolls for kids to use during worship so that we can replace the loud, large community coloring bucket. I can provide fabric and a pattern. Please contact No-ell@gbconline.org if you can help. Thanks!

Kayla Bayles Lennon

What an exciting week! It is hard to believe, that after a journey of about 40 years, I will be ordained as a Baptist minister in just a few short days. Perhaps in the manner of my favorite biblical character, Moses, there was just too much that needed to be learned along the way of my life's mission for it to be a direct route. Many of those lessons were things I needed to know about myself, and some of them were about what others needed to be ready for how God might choose to use me.

Growing up in Louisiana as a member of the church of Christ, was confusing for me because I had this longing to be a preacher. As a child, I would emulate our minister by pretending to preach in my bedroom, holding a brush for a microphone, or by "preaching" as the narrator of our elementary school plays. But in the church of Christ, a strict fundamentalist faith tradition, a pulpit was not open to female ministers. I thought it was God calling me, but decided something was wrong in my way of understanding.

Later, as I entered my early twenties, the confusion deepened because now I also knew that I was lesbian. There was no one in the early to mid 80's who would ever confirm my call in light of these two things. I turned the rejection inward.

The next 20 years was spent vacillating between my need to serve God and my disdain of the church of my childhood. I tried on different denominations and different ways of being in the world much like one would try on clothes. Looking, searching for the perfect fit. I learned so much during this time. Some of the lessons were useful and I continue to use them in my spiritual practice today, while others were most probably there to teach me how not to do something. ;-)

Yet, I am so grateful for all those experiences for they have brought me to this place and time where not only am I affirmed as a woman in ministry, but as a lesbian woman. I cherish the time when I was unable to cross the threshold of a church just as much as the time I spent with God's people in the Salvation Army, the United Pentecostal Church, and the Metropolitan Community Church. However, nothing was as satisfying, nor as right, as when Crystal and I entered the doors of Millbrook Baptist Church in Raleigh, NC. From that first Sunday in 2008 until today, the Baptist faith has been a welcoming, affirming and healing presence for me, and for us.

Thank you, Grace Baptist Church, for continuing to extend the welcome to us when we came through your doors. Thank you for engaging us in our talents and callings, for loving us unconditionally and extending grace and mercy to us in our human frailties. We are so honored - I am so honored - to live among you and call you all friends. Yet most of all, I hope that we can serve you, and serve beside you, for a long time to come.

God Bless!
